

I believe Sinclair Broadcasting's initiative to air an anti-Kerry documentary just before the election exemplifies the danger of media consolidation.

Since TV sponsors pay for air time, I view this as an abuse of partisan campaign contribution regulations and doesn't serve the general public interest.